

Serendipity WINERY

Press Release

June 1, 2016

Naramata Winemaker Brings International Experience to BC Serendipity's Katie O'Kell Completes Harvest in New Zealand; Receives UC Davis Certificate

The News:

[Naramata, BC]: The winemaking industry in BC has many reasons to celebrate. Serendipity Winery's Katie O'Kell has just returned from a practicum at New Zealand's ultra-modern Deleat Wine Estate, processing the 2016 vintage. Just before this, she completed her winemaking certificate from UC Davis in California, receiving an impressive 100% on her final exam. O'Kell brings this newly-won experience to her family-owned, Naramata-based winery.

To learn more about this exceptional young woman in wine, click HERE.

About Serendipity Winery:

Nestled among the rolling hills of the picturesque Naramata Beach, a visit to Serendipity is all about discovery, surprise and warmth. Owner Judy Kingston and her second-in-command, daughter Katie O' Kell, welcome every visitor with a smile and a glass, always pleased to share their passion and education with their guests. Founded in the fall of 2005, the wines, under the direction of winemaker Bradley Cooper, continue to delight, surprise, and capture accolades.

Learn more at serendipitywinery.com and follow the conversation on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram.

Media Contact: Sujinder Juneja | 604.367.6745